It would be terrible and sad
 If everyone was the same, oh wouldn't that be bad

Let's celebrate diversity
For all of eternity

Everyone is different and unique
And that is what makes life complete

Whether light skin or dark
The people inside light the spark
Creative, colorful, and fun
Make friendships feel like a race well done

If everyone was the same it would be crazy
And everyone would be lazy

Styles and religion are different and new
The things we see and things we do.

We learn from our mistakes
And sometimes they can be great

Life would be full of ideas that would ruin our lives
And make us think we are not worthy of high fives

Be confident in who you are
To make people see past the scars
